AFTERGLOW

House of Magari is no ordinary store. Magari means a ‘sense of hope’ and ‘quiet luxury’ is how Nolte India describes its Ipanema collection of minimalist bedroom furniture. The simplicity in form and in material finish – you can choose from six front colours in glass and wood finishes, apart from the four body colours – is perfectly matched with in-built light features. For instance, the mirrored door of the wardrobe has a light effect which makes the already exquisite furniture more alluring. Similarly, the subtle touch of lights on the soft upholstered headboard adds to the luxe look and feel of the collection. Functionality has not been compromised: one can choose from a wide selection of internal and external accessories, two different side tables, six options in the chest of drawers and multiple combinations for wardrobes.

ART MEETS SOUND

How often do you come across a gadget as a work of art? It’s a rare sight, which is why the first impression of Zemi Aria – unique omni-directional ceramic speakers from Italy – wins you over instantly! It is the combination of timeless design and innovative technology that gives this high-end speaker system its clarity of sound and impeccable, artsy appearance. Each wireless speaker is crafted with attention to detail and becomes a unique object embellishing a room – be it contemporary homes, offices, hotels or restaurants. You can get hold of this piece of functional art from its exclusive distributors Anusha Technovision in India.

STORY IN WALLS

If walls could speak, you would want them to be ‘persuasive’ – making a bold and captivating statement. That’s just what you get from Sternhagen’s new Persuasive composite 3D wall tiles that give drab surfaces a makeover like no other. It’s the perfectly rendered angular forms that provide a dynamic reciprocation of depth, light and shadow on the wall. The six designs – Glam, Diamant, Bossi, Spark, Hexy and Visua, available in trending colour options like Papaya, Klein, Carib, Avocado, Curcuma along with White, Black, Grey and Cream – create a mesmerising backdrop against which both residential and commercial settings can benefit. This collection is about giving an impression of exclusivity and modernity.

LIGHT UP

Illuminate and revamp the interiors for the festive season with Visionnaire’s new lighting collection designed by acclaimed international designers. The Kalgan Bilbo Kael ceiling lamps designed by Marco Piya is a stunning suspension lamp in glass with surface treatment of antique brass, titanium fade and dark copper. Sylar ceiling lamp designed by La Conca is a ceiling lamp structured in brushed stainless steel, made with five crystal mesh hanging drapes, crossed at different heights. The Jasper and Omega table lamp designed by Fabio Bonfa is an interesting fusion of brass and marble. The statement fixture, however, is the Akira Applique chandelier designed by Alessandro La Spada – a 16 lights chandelier crafted with a polished brass structure with curved arms that are fixed to the central stem by solid brass elements.
