ATPL PROVIDES CUSTOMISED LIGHTING CONTROL AND AUTOMATION SYSTEMS

Anusha Technovision Private Limited (ATPL) is a technology & innovation driven company that provides customised 'Lighting Control and Automation systems', for all commercial and residential needs. It however recognises itself as an organisation whose sole purpose is to provide its customers with enchanting and everlasting living experiences.

Conceived as a One Stop Shop, and association ranging to all the leading brands in the industry. ATPL provides the services from designing and commissioning of the automation systems, providing products, creating complete as built drawings and being the interface with the contractor, architect and end user

Driven by dynamic and passionate individuals, ATPL's team is led by Alok Hada, an expert in providing automation & lighting control systems to varied segments of the industry i.e. Residential, Commercial and Hospitality. 'We Bring Lighting controls, Audio Video and Automation to Life', says Alok !!

We would like to share with you 'Nac Sound' - a unique combination of timeless design & innovative technology, these hand-crafted Omni directional ceramic speakers from Italy having clarity of sound & design makes it a unique High-End Speaker system. The mechanical resonance is reduced to produce a rich, natural and consistent sound almost everywhere in the installation. They are created to complement the environment in which they are placed. These speaker can be incorporated into contemporary homes, offices, hotels and restaurants. Ideal for large-space installations or when a visible speaker is desirable for design integrity. Each speaker is hand made with attention to every detail, and becomes a unique object embellishing the room with an exquisite piece of art. Anusha Technovision exclusively distributes and installs 'Nac Sound' in India. ■
